

US 60: Queen Creek and Waterfall Canyon Bridges Replacement Project

CONSTRUCTION NOTICE

The Lost Trail closed between Magma Avenue and the Queen Creek Tunnel during construction

OVERVIEW

The Arizona Department of Transportation is replacing the Queen Creek and Waterfall Canyon bridges located on the US 60 between mileposts 227 and 229.5, just east of Superior in Pinal County.

Hikers, rock climbers, and other recreational users that frequent the Lost Trail in the area near the Queen Creek Bridge should plan for restricted access for safety reasons. In the restricted area, there will be no trail or parking access during the week and weekends; these restrictions will extend throughout the entirety of the project. Post construction, the restricted area of the trail will be returned to its original condition.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

A new Queen Creek Bridge will be constructed just to the east of the existing bridge and the existing steel bridge will be removed following construction of the new bridge. The Waterfall Canyon Bridge, located east of the Queen Creek Tunnel, will be reconstructed into two box culverts to improve drainage, and will remain in its existing location.

Guardrail replacement and other general maintenance work will also be completed within and near the Queen Creek Tunnel.
